

E-Learning Developer (Articulate Storyline)

Location: Remote (U.S.)

LawFirmElearning is a small, rapidly-growing company that creates online learning solutions for law firms and businesses across North America and abroad. Our team is comprised of creative, entrepreneurial self-starters, all of whom work remotely. We are highly creative and productive without the distractions of a commute or office environment.

This is a small company so you will have the opportunity to make a significant impact. We are currently looking for an E-Learning Developer to join our team. In this role, you'll use your cutting-edge creativity along with a variety of software and tools to create graphic-rich, visually engaging self-paced online courses and tutorials.

Position responsibilities:

- Design and develop engaging and interactive e-learning modules for high-level adult learners (content is already prepared for you so you get to jump right into the fun part – ideation and creation)
- Collaborate with project management team to meet (and exceed) client expectations

That's it. Seriously. We are looking for someone who is as passionate and excited about creating awesome e-learning as we are, always looking to do better than yesterday, and has the drive to be an innovator in the e-learning field.

Required software experience and proficiency:

- Articulate Storyline (intermediate)
- Adobe Photoshop (basic)
- Camtasia/Adobe Premiere (basic)
- Audacity (basic)
- Microsoft Office (basic)

Technical skills are just a piece of the puzzle – there are some traits you'll need in order to be successful here, too. Be prepared to talk about yourself and how you embody each of the traits listed below.

Desired traits:

- Organized
- Strong communicator (written and verbal)
- Creative
- Motivated
- Detail oriented
- Positive attitude
